The Health of your Bees is in our Hands.

A Natural Supplement That Includes Botanical Nectar Compounds

Bees' primary source of natural sustenance is nectar. It is impossible for bee workers to saddle and provide the essential stock for the hive's survival and continuation during tough climatic circumstances. Here, beekeepers use a regular sugar solution void of vitamins, minerals, and essential amino acids as an alternative to nectar. We know that feeding the bees is critical to the survival of the hives.

It was critical for us to complete the right nutrition that is more in accordance with mother nature. Following the research of nectar compounds and the production of jerry syrup, it was necessary to create a nutritional supplement rich in plant components found in nectar. by that, we created:

Bees Forte

Bees Forte is a herbal liquid food supplement for bees based on extracts of plants and spices that contains minerals, vitamins and various organic substances. Such as, tannins, saponins, polyphenols, sterols and other active ingredients present in the nectar that make up a balanced and nutritious nutritional formula that bees need for:

1. Strengthening the overall hive health And Increased disease resistance and reduced infection rate
2. Increase in bee activity
3. Improvement in wax building
4. Promotes hive healthy growth
5. A great increase in honey yield

Bees Forte is an Excellent Choice for Beekeepers Who care about the health and productivity of bees. It is added at a rate of 1%:

- For all kinds of sugary solution/sugar paste, thus beekeeper could be sure to provide nutrition similar to bee nectar.
- For the protein dough, thus beekeeper could be sure to provide protein nutrition similar to bee pollen.
